This letter confirms English proficiency at the level of B2 for student Atif Halitović. He is currently a second-year student at IT Faculty, Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar.

Within his studies, he has attended English courses for IT students in each semester, and according to the syllabi, Atif has been required to read, write, present topics and communicate in English. All classes have been taught in English and Atif proved to be a very active student, highly proficient in all four language skills.

Hereby it is confirmed that student Atif Halitović is able to follow University lectures in English and he is recommended for any student mobility program.

To whom it may concern

This is to certify that Atif Halitović has successfully passed C++ programming courses at 1st and 2nd year of Bachelor degree at Faculty of Information Technologies (www.fit.ba) in Mostar, Bosnia and Herzegovina. During last year he attended Erasmus exchange mobility program in Portugal where he showed huge interest in studying abroad and significant success.

Having this in mind, I have no reserves in recommending Atif Halitović for any engineering tasks, as he has shown both practical knowledge and desire to learn more and improve himself in every way. Once again, based on my experiences with the candidate during his undergraduate studies, I recommend Atif Halitović for your internship program.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you need more information.

To who it may concern

This is to certify that Atif Halitović, completed with success and under my supervision the course "Human Computer Interaction", at NOVA IMS University in Lisbon, Portugal, where he and his student colleagues developed the project "Greepto", aimed at helping cryptocurrency miners and aspiring miners, to easily calculate how much their profit will be, based on their hardware and how much they pay for electricity, with an incentive to use green energy in the process, which was ranked amongst the top in class. Atif Halitović proved to be an interested student in all topics of computer science, and particularly in this course, where he understood the benefits of designing a good user experience, through the development of a successful practical project.
